The Newport Mercury,

—PUBLISHED BY—
JOHN P. SANBORN,
272 Thames, Cor. Pelham St.,
NEWPORT, R. I.

THE NEWPORT MERCURY was established in June, 1878, and is now in its one hundred and thirty-third year. It is the oldest newspaper in the United States, with less than half a dozen exceptions, the oldest printed in the English language. It is a large quarto weekly of fifty-six columns filled with interesting reading—editorial, state, local and general news, well-selected miscellany and valuable features, and household departments—furnishing so many households in this and other States, the limited space given to advertising is very valuable to business men.

Local Matters.

Mr. Vanderbilt's Generous Offer.

It is reported that Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt who is making extensive improvements to the Oakland Farm property, has offered to pay twenty-five thousand dollars towards macadamizing the road from Newport line to Oakland provided the towns of Middletown and Portsmouth will pay as much more. This is certainly very generous on the part of Mr. Vanderbilt and the towns will do well to meet him in a liberal manner in the way of improvements. A smooth, hard macadamized road for five miles out on the island will be a great thing for the towns and would tend to enhance the value of the property along the road.

$10,000 Suit Against the Town of Middletown.

The case of Dwight H. Mahogany and wife against the town of Middletown for $10,000 damages, which has had several hearings before the town council of Middletown during the past month or two, is to be taken before the Supreme Court which opens here on the fourth Monday in this month. The legal papers were served on Mr. Charles H. Ward, as treasurer of the town of Middletown, yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Tilley. Messrs. F. B. Peckham and P. J. Galvin have been retained as counsel for the prosecution and Hon. Wm. P. Sheffield for the town.

This suit, it will be remembered, is to recover for alleged injuries sustained by Mrs. Lillian Mahogany in colliding with a small white driving in Middletown, the prosecution claiming that the post was in the public highway.

Mr. William Burlingham, who has had charge of the Sheffield Industrial School for boys in this city since its formation, has accepted a responsible position in the drafting department of Herreshoff's works at Bristol and entered upon his new duties on Wednesday of this week. Mr. Burlingham is a graduate of the School of Technology at Worcester and is considered an expert mechanical draftsman. He has declined numerous lucrative positions which have been offered him on the high recommendations from the faculty at Worcester. His place as principal of the industrial school here is being temporarily filled by Mr. John B. Tison who has an extensive planing mill in the same building.

The appraisers appointed to determine the value of the property of the late Edward F. Northam, of San Francisco, have filed their report in the Probate Court. They find the estate to be worth $1,033,148 50, of which $797,000 41 is in real estate. The real estate is situated in various parts of the State, a large portion being in San Francisco. By will Dr. Wm. H. Cotton and Miss Emily C. Carrasco, of this city, nephew and niece of the testator, get about one-twentieth each of this estate.

Mr. Mary Abby, wife of Mr. William F. Spangler, died at her residence on Franklin street Sunday morning and her funeral was solemnized on Wednesday. She had been a great sufferer for a long time and death came as a relief.

In the General Assembly Thursday the petition of John D. Richardson and others was presented by Senator Ball for an act to incorporate the Newport Incandescent Electric Lighting Company.

Easter Sunday comes on the first day of April this year.

An Old Newporter Brought Home for Burial.

The remains of Edward A. T. Taber, who died at his home in Quincy, Mass., on Tuesday last, were brought to this city on the 2:20 train yesterday afternoon for burial. They were accompanied by delegations from Mr. Wollaston Lodge No. 80, I. O. O. F., and from the Knights of Honor and the Knights and Ladies of Honor, of all of which bodies he was an esteemed member. They were received at the depot by a delegation from Rhode Island Lodge No. 12, I. O. O. F., and escorted to the Belmont Memorial chapel in the Island cemetery where funeral services were held at 2:30. Rev. Mr. Norton of Quincy officiating. The Odd Fellows performed the burial service.

Mr. Taber was a native of Newport and had many friends and relatives here. His wife, also a native of Newport, being a sister of Mrs. William Allen, and two sons and a daughter survive him. He was about 53 years of age and acted as messenger for the Adams Express Co., from Boston to Woonsocket, for many years until last autumn when forced to give up on account of ill health.

The literary society of the United Congregational church met Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. Cottrell on Thames street, subject, Othello. The attendance was large and the entertainment excellent. Mrs. Cottrell proving a most charming hostess. An elaborate collation was served during the evening. The next meeting will be held in Burlingham's hall, on Mill street, probably on the 13th instant.

Miss Mabel F. E. Tompkins left Newport Wednesday evening for New York, where she will reside permanently with her uncle, Mr. A. Tillinghast Tompkins, formerly of this city.

William H. Bliss.

Mr. William H. Bliss died at his residence on Marlboro street, Thursday morning after a painful illness of about three weeks, from bronchial trouble, and the funeral will be solemnized tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Bliss was a native of Newport and when quite a young boy entered the ship of William Brownell as an apprentice. He served his time with Mr. Brownell and then started out in search of employment. But after visiting many places in different parts of the country, returned and reported to his uncle, Mr. Benjamin Finch, his inability to find employment, and Mr. Finch, being satisfied with his efforts, suggested that he procure tools and try what he could do for himself in his own town. He began business in the store now owned and occupied by Mr. J. M. K. Southwick at the early age of about 21 years and soon drew about him a liberal share of work and general business. He remained here until 1873 or 74 when he disposed of his business to Mr. Southwick and became one of the Newport Manufacturing Company which was organized about that time and of which, at the time of its collapse, he was the superintendent.

Being of an inventive mind, he was always studying some mechanical improvement, and a number of his inventions were made practicable. The "Jenny Lind" range, which was quite popular a quarter of a century ago, was his patent, and the "Bliss house coupling," also his invention, was long in general use all over the country. He made numerous tours of the South and West in personally introducing the coupling and when the Newport Manufacturing Company was established it became their leading article of manufacture. The controversy and subsequent law suit between this Company and the city of Brooklyn was not, however, as many believe, over this coupling; it was another patent altogether.

After the failure of the manufacturing company Mr. Bliss went South with a view to establishing an orange grove but poor health and the want of funds prevented its success and after a year or two he returned to Newport. He was elected to the Common Council in 1865 from the First Ward and resigned in the latter year to accept the position of Executive Officer of the Board of Health, an office which he filled with marked ability until his death. While in this office he gave much thought to the matter of disposing of the swill and house offal of the city and made a model of a crematory and destructor for its destruction, which received much favorable comment from expert engineers. For this invention a patent has been applied for.

He was an energetic, pushing man and always looked upon the bright side of life, even when the fates seemed against him. He was fond of gambling and fishing and provided Easton's pond with his first stock of black bass and pickerel.

He was twice married, his first wife being the sister of the late Job T. Langley and his second, who survive him, a Mrs. Gladding. Five children, by his first wife, survives him, three sons and two daughters, one of the latter being the wife of Alderman Edward Newton.

The Swill Contract Awarded.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Aldermen and the Board of Health was held at the City Hall Saturday evening and the vexed swill question was finally disposed of for the year ensuing. His Honor, Mayor Powell, presided and opened the new bids for collecting and receiving the swill and house offal of the city which were as follows:

James H. Morgan—First ward, $650; Second, $800; Third, $850; Fourth, $900; Fifth, $1,150; or the whole city for $4,400, or the First, Second and Third wards, $2,600.

James A. McMahon—First ward, $700; Second, $800; Third, $1,025; Fourth, $1,000; Fifth, $1,150; or the whole city for $4,700; or the First, Second and Third wards, $2,500.

O. H. P. Coggeshall—Third ward, $1,000.

Henry D. DeBlois, Jr.—Third ward, $975.

John McMahon—Second ward, $800.

Daniel Wellen—First ward, $650.

The Sea View Railroad.

Mr. H. L. Stillman of Allenton, R. I., the contractor for building the Sea View Railroad from Narragansett Pier to Watch Hill, was in town one day this week. He proposes to commence work this month and hopes to have the line in running order by another year. This road which starts from the terminus of the Narragansett Pier Railroad, near the South Pier will run in a direct line to Point Judith. From thence it follows the coast, very near to the water, all the way to Watch Hill, a distance in all of twenty-four and a fraction miles. The road is almost a dead level all the way and the expense of grading is very light. It is proposed eventually to continue this road either to tap the New York, Providence and Boston at Stonington or to make a branch through L-story Village to the Stonington line. The parties interested in this road hope to be able to co-operate with the Newport and New York Rapid Transit Co., and have the railroad continued to Easton's ferry, where the steamer will connect for Newport, running through the proposed canal on Conanicut.

A Native Newporter Dead.

[From New Bedford Standard.]

Mr. Henry Taber, 21, a well known citizen, died at his residence on Hillman street on Wednesday, 22 ult. He was a native of Newport, and has resided in New Bedford since he was eleven years of age. He always took an interest in politics, and the last time he was on the street was when he rose from a sick bed to vote at the last election. He was a member of the Common Council in 1882-3, and inspector of petroleum for nine years from 1872. He was a member of Adoniam Chapter of Free Masons, and a Past Master of Star in the East Lodge. Mr. Taber was very affectionate and entertaining in his family, to which he was firmly devoted, and he was much of a student, especially in ancient history, theology and astronomy, and he took great interest in works of all branches of natural science. Mr. Taber was respected as a man of upright character by everyone.

The many friends and acquaintances of Mr. A. O'D. Taylor will be pleased to learn that that gentleman has finally decided to decline the numerous other flattering offers from abroad and settle permanently in Newport. He has leased the corner store in Tenno Block, 124 Bellevue avenue, where, in a few days, he will establish himself in the real estate business. Mr. Taylor's natural activity, wide acquaintance, and perfect familiarity with the business in all its details make him peculiarly fitted for his new enterprise and give every success which all wish him.

It is reported that Mr. Daniel B. Fitts has made a proposition to the United Congregational church to purchase the land and building of the Grace Chapel property and relieve that church of all further care and responsibility in reference to it. An answer will be made to his proposition next week, in the form of a recommendation of the church committee of the Chapel, subject to the action of the church.

Newport Mercury of October 2nd 1775. Last Thursday as Mr. Stukely Wyatt, and his younger brother Jonathan Wyatt about 16 years of age, sons of Mr. Lemuel Wyatt, with Mr. William Bissow, aged about 23 years, son of the widow Bristow, and David Stevens, son of Mr. Thomas Stevens, about 14 years old, all of this town, were going up Narragansett bay, in a small two masted, a sudden land flow of wind overtook the boat, between Hope and Patience Islands, a considerable distance from any land, where they were unhappily drowned, except Mr. Stukely Wyatt; who by means of one of the masts, with great difficulty, got ashore on Providence. The deceased, were promising young persons, and bid fair to make useful members of society.

The same day arrived here, the brig Vassar, Captain Benjamin Allen, in 31 days from Jamaica, with whom came messenger Mr. Claver Taylor.

One Squire Hunt, and one Doctor Kinsley, lately had a very genteel cutting through the streets of Philadelphia, as a reward for their infamous Tory principles and practices.

A certain—Christie, in Maryland, a short time past, was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 sterling, and the highest that prevails forever, for his inhuman conduct respecting the present glorious stand against Tyranny.

By a gentleman who left Cambridge last Friday, we are informed, that the people about Marblehead, &c., had taken a brig from Quebec, with 40 head of cattle, and 60 sheep on board, besides other cargo; and a vessel from New-Province, with a load of turtle, fruit, &c., bound for Boston.

On Thursday the Rose, man-of-war returned into this harbor from a cruise, and brought in a brig, Capt. Benjamin Bowers, of Swansea, from Jamaica. She sailed again next day, and last night brought in a schooner, but from whence we have not learned.

Last Friday night a ship from a Tory, who lately came into this town from Boston, a cargo of fowls, which he had collected for his friends, and he had well informed that number of Tories here are purchasing small stock, butter, eggs, &c., for their friends in that town. The committee of Inspection, some time ago, gave them a strong hint. They are desirous to take this hint, or worse evils than cloppements may befall them. Spectator.

Last Saturday arrived here, from Boston, the ship Viper of 12 guns, and a brig of 6 guns, with two large companies, supposed to be in quest of the block; it is said these vessels attempted to take stock off the Vineyard, but were disappointed by the assembling of a number of armed men.

We hear that many vessels were lost in the late storm at Ocracoke, in North Carolina, among which were the ship—Capt. James Redman, and another ship, commanded by Capt. John Saul on both of this place, and every sail on board of each except Capt. Stanton, who was taken up alive.

On Friday the Nautilus man-of-war with two tenders, sailed to convey 4 frigates to Boston, the next day one of the frigates, Capt. Benjamin Bowers, being near the shores of Dartmouth, was boarded by a number of Provincials, and carried into Bedford. After she was boarded, one of the ships tenders came up, fired two broadsides, and grappled her, the people on board lying close till the tender was fast, when they rose and fired a number of small arms into her, which it was thought killed and wounded a number of the people, upon which the tender cut her fast and made off.

Married, last Friday, Mr. Benjamin Pierce to Mrs. Hannah Bardin, of this town.

Last evening was married, Mr. Walter Nichols to Miss Rachel Stoddard, daughter of Capt. Joshua Stoddard of this town.

Last Thursday died, in the 72nd year of her age, Mrs. Sarah Peckham, of this town, widow.

Lately died, at South Carolina, Mrs. Mary Flagg, the amiable consort of Mr. George Flagg of this place.

Charleston, South Carolina, Aug. 17, 1775. About a week ago a small ship, from this town, loaded a snow from England, in Augustus Bay, and carried off between 12 and 14 thousand pounds of powder, mostly belonging to the King. She had been sent out privately with thirty resolute men, well armed by our committee, in order to intercept the vessel on the coast, but were disappointed, being too late, for there was forty thousand pounds of powder landed, with four brass field pieces, the day before our boat boarded her. There were 12 soldiers sent from Augustus to assist and defend the snow as it came up the river, gave 10 guineas for helping them out with the powder, and being so modest as not to resist. A man-of-war was in sight, but fortunately ground the few hours our people stay'd. We spiked up the snow's guns, and then went off triumphant, although attacked by 3 boats full of armed men. One got within 150 yards, it being quite calm, but that moment a fresh breeze spring up. Our people brought their heavy guns to bear, and from the coast about 70 miles S. W. of this place. It was reported they were pursued by the armed vessel from Augustus; to which place, on hearing of this, our council of safety dispatched 15 artillery men, and 15 soldiers by water, and a company of our provincials to Beaufort, to assist the country people in defence of the acquisition. We are putting this town in a posture of defence, and are all determined to oppose whatever troops may come here.

The road between the First and Second beaches in Middletown which was macadamized last fall by Mr. James Carigan, of Newport at an expense of some five thousand dollars is highly appreciated by those who wish to come to Newport during the muddy weather. The Mercury.

SATURDAY, MARCH 3, 1888.

The Democratic national convention will meet in St. Louis on the fifth of June. Counting back from the present campaign as far as 1856, the places in which the Democrats have held their national conventions have been Chicago, 1864; Cincinnati, 1880; St. Louis, 1876; Cincinnati, 1872; New York, 1884; Chicago, 1884; Charleston, 1880; Cincinnati, 1880. The Republicans seem most to favor Chicago, as the Republican national convention to meet there on the nineteenth of June will be the fifth that has been held in that city since 1868.

Randall has a tariff bill which he hopes to be able to pass, by which the surplus will be reduced about $80,000,000. This bill takes off twenty millions on customs and sixty millions in internal revenue taxes. It proposes to take the tax off of tobacco, reduce the tax on whisky from ninety to fifty cents a gallon and remove it entirely from spirits used in the arts. His bill is said to contain no free wool, coal or ores, but does put lumber and salt on the free list. It adopts a metal schedule that is satisfactory to the iron and steel associations of Pittsburgh, making small reductions in the duties on pig iron and steel rails, and places a large number of articles on the free list. If the committee does not accept the bill, or one substantially like it, Mr. Randall, it is said, will move to substitute it for the committee's bill in the House and he thinks that he can get voters enough to pass it.

In the State Senate on Thursday the Committee on Education reported in favor of allowing the City Council of Newport to give Miss Wormley two thousand dollars a year for two years. This report was opposed by Lt. Governor Honey, who characterized the measure as an attack upon the public school system. The bill went over till Wednesday next. We think the Lieutenant is entirely right in opposing this measure. For the moment the commencement is made of appropriating public funds to support private schools, from that moment may, in our opinion, be reckoned the downfall of our public schools. We do not believe that the city or State has the right to support private institutions of any kind, however good they may be, from the public moneys in their keeping. Neither do we think that there is any need of Miss Wormley appealing to the city for aid. If she is doing such good work as she and her friends claim for her, then there ought to be public-spirited people enough in the city to contribute liberally to her support. If public spirit will not come to her aid, certainly out of the four hundred pupils she claims to have the school ought to be well supported by simply charging each pupil a small tuition.

If, however, it is deemed important to continue the Industrial School and the success and popularity of the institution justify its assistance from the public funds, there is but one safe, proper and justifiable method to pursue, and that is to incorporate it as a component part of our public system of education, place it under the supervision of the School Committee and allow them two thousand per annum to defray its expenses. The Industrial School could then be continued under the same efficient managers, whose subordination to the public school authorities would in no way interfere with the exercise of that good judgment and philanthropic effort which have so fully commended the enterprise to all of our citizens. Our maxim is "No public money for any private school."

The third party prohibitionists have put their State ticket in the field and they claim that they shall run a General Assembly ticket in every town and city in the State. What will be the result? They will aid as far as in them lies to bring into full power in this State the party which is now doing all it can to give the State free rum. That the third party prohibitionists are the direct allies of the free rum party in this State is susceptible of mathematical proof. There is not a temperance man in this State but that knows that the Republican party was instrumental in the passage of the prohibition amendment to the Constitution. There is not a temperance man in the State but that knows that a Republican General Assembly passed the law now on our statute books for the rigid enforcement of that law. Every temperance man knows or ought to know that the third party movement gave the General Assembly to the Democracy last spring, by defeating Republican members in Newport, Woonsocket and several other towns. Every temperance man likewise knows that it has been only by the Republican senate, elected in spite of the third party opposition, that the present law has been allowed to remain on the statute books. Every temperance man knows that it is only by that same Republican senate that the repeal of the prohibition amendment can be prevented. No one has any doubt but that the Democratic house will pass the measure for the repeal. Now in the face of all these facts the third party men are getting ready to once more unite their forces with the free rum party in their efforts to down the Republican party of the State, and should they be successful this time in the senate as well as in the house, they will find all prohibition legislation will be wiped from the statute books without any unnecessary delay. With the experience of the past year as a guide, every temperance man should think twice before making himself an ally to the party which professes to believe precisely opposite to his professed belief.

The extravagant outlay and the excessive demand for national public buildings are beginning to attract attention. It has been a matter of course that the outlay upon these structures has largely exceeded the estimates and the appropriations; and it is getting to be a matter of course for any little place in the country, without any regard to its commercial or business importance to demand a public building. Some insignificant places of less than 10,000 inhabitants have demanded to be gratified in this way at a cost of $100,000. The buildings called for this winter would use up half the surplus now in the treasury. It is beginning to be felt that there must be a stop to this, and the log-rolling system by which such measures are carried must be checked. In our public buildings some respect must be paid to the importance of the locality; and the public can very well get along without the architectural extravaganzas that the architects have been allowed to indulge in.

The Republicans have long claimed to be the friends of temperance, and many of them are so in good faith. The senate, which they control, is likely to afford an opportunity to show their faith by their works in a few days, when the lower branch of the General Assembly shall start the ball for the repeal of the prohibitory amendment. If the Republican party allows this to pass, when it clearly has the power to prevent it, there will be a marked going back upon its record, and an open confession that the promises of the past were more pretenses. We have too much faith in the men at the helm to believe that they will shipwreck their party in this easy way.—(Daily News.)

That is right, Neighbor. It is always safe to put your faith in the Republican party. But how about your own party in the house? You seem to take it for granted that they are for free rum anyhow. It is very evident that your party will be "shipwrecked" if they don't do all they can to repeal the liquor amendment.

The Democratic majority in the State House of Representatives was defeated twice on Thursday. The committee reported the bill for the repeal of the fifth article of amendment to the Constitution, the prohibitory article, and demanded that it be put immediately upon its passage. The opposition moved that it be made the special order for Wednesday next and carried it by a vote of 32 to 23. The boss, Hugh Carroll, then called up and argued the passage of the weekly payment bill. This was defeated by a vote of 30 to 23. The boss should have his men in better training.

The President is reported to have said to a Protectionist Democrat that he would not let "revenue reform" stand in the way of the unity of the party. To insure that he would even abandon tariff reduction and cut down internal revenue taxation. Instead, Trust the Democracy to never let its principle stand in the way of interest. Its only policy is to win and hold office. But how will the Free Traders and the Mugwumps receive this deliverance?—(Boston Journal.)

The same as they have all the other somersaults His Excellency has turned during the last three years. They will smile faintly and look unhappy for a few days. Then they will shout aloud for Cleveland and "reform" as ever.

Even the Providence Journal, to whom the name of Blaine is like a red rag to a bull, has at last come to the conclusion that the Republican leader meant what he said when he declared that his name would not be presented to the National Republican Convention. The Journal has come to the conclusion, evidently reluctantly, that Mr. Blaine is now entirely out of the field.

The time was, a few years ago, when very nearly all our dry goods stores sold whiskey; now they nearly all sell grog; a happy change.—(Washington, Ga., Gazette.)

The time was, and is not far distant either, when whiskey was the staple ingredient of the South, and the shops, whether dry goods or hardware, that did not keep it, could not look for much trade.

The Democratic tariff bill, which Mills & Co. have been working upon for months, has at length come to light. It puts a large number of articles on the free list, including lumber, wool, etc., and nearly every raw material that is used in manufacturing goods. This bill, it is claimed, will reduce the revenue some fifty millions. The internal revenue taxes are allowed to remain substantially as they have been for years.

It is a curious study to read the Democratic papers just now. While there was a possibility that Mr. Blaine would again be a candidate for the Presidency, they could not find bad words enough in the dictionary to apply to him. Now that he is out of the race they have suddenly learned that he is the strongest man in the Republican party. Truly the ways of a partisan politician are mysterious.

If a mercantile house should conduct its business upon the same basis that the United States Government is run it would fail every year.—(Boston Journal.)

Right you are. Uncle Sam seems to be lacking in the first elements of business principles.

Where the Money Goes.

While it has been a well-known fact that Western farmers are loaded down with mortgages, the extent of their obligations was not understood until an investigation was initiated by the department of agriculture. The mortgages resting on the farmers of ten Western states aggregate, it appears, $3,422,000,000. Ohio leading the list with an aggregate of $701,000,000. In Michigan one-half of the farms are mortgaged, the aggregate debt secured by mortgage being $350,000,000. A striking fact of the situation is that the annual net earnings on the capital invested in farms in the United States is but 4 or 5 per cent, while the mortgages in question command from 7 to 9 per cent. The insurance companies of Hartford, Conn., own $70,000,000 of Western farm mortgages, and the loan companies of Boston hold them to the amount of $70,000,000. Suggestive facts these.

A company of Boston capitalists have undertaken to build a town or city near Port Malgrave, on the straits of Canoe, where they have purchased five miles of land for $30,000 cash. They have also purchased a coal mine. As this part is the only certain, winter port of Cape Breton, they hope to build up a large city. The company are trying, it is said, to have the Atlantic terminus of the railroad system of Canada located there, and also have all Atlantic steamers call there. The company will apply to the present Legislature of Massachusetts for incorporation.

The female Mayor of Argonah, Kansas, was elected as a joke, but a good many of the citizens think they have caught a Tartar. She has put a stop to their poker games, billiard playing and similar amusements after 6 P. M., and sprees and jamborees are things of the past. Everybody is in bed by 9.30, and sporting men are seeking fields and pastures new.

It is sometimes the expected that happens. The report comes from Chicago that Nina Van Zandt, the brovel widow of the late Augustus Spies, is going on the stage. An Anarchist of literary proclivities is said to be writing a play for her which will reveal to a sceptical world the innate loveliness of Anarchy. It was hardly to be hoped that Nina would keep quiet very long.

Kate Chase's Daughter.

One of the most sensible and interesting young ladies in a quiet way in the fashionable whirl is Miss Ethel Sprague. It was the intention of Mrs. Kate Chase to remain in Washington for the season, at the same time looking after the fine book of real estate adjoining the Capitol left by her father, the Chief Justice. The Misses Chase children at Fontainebleau, near Paris, where they are at school, abridged her visit, but her beautiful daughter, whose attachment to her native land was stronger than the allurements of the season at the gay Capitol of France, preferred to remain here under the kind care of a woman prominent in social life. The young lady has many of the points of beauty of her mother and many of her social attractions. She possesses most of her time to study. Her inclinations are said to lean to the histrionic art.—(Washington Letter.)

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The Democrats Getting Ready for Their Free Trade Disunion—Longer Session of Congress—Broken Promises—Union Hands at the Legislative Business—Washingtonians Want a Change of Immigration Day—Wins in the Interior Department—Death of W. W. Corcoran—Various Miscellaneous.

(From our own Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27th, 1888.

It takes Congress a long time to pull itself together for the tariff fight. It is hinted however, that when it does get good and ready it will make the wool fly, to say nothing of the coal, lumber, sugar, with other raw and bloody material. Well, we shall see, but judging the future by the past, Congress will talk and talk and do nothing, or, at the best, do something of a very unbusinesslike kind for the general good. Too long since Congress was elected for the remembrance of platforms and pledges.

Appropos of this it was Mr. Grant, of Texas, who presented the bill to have Congress get together and to work in three months after the election instead of thirteen as it now is. Anything to cure the evils of the "short session" of Congress. It is argued with reason that under the proposed plan Congress will have time for the people and less likely to forget the promises made in the platform and on the stump.

Oh, those stumps! Those stumps! What frustrations of broken pledges of iron jawed demagogues! It's nothing to laugh about, but a deadly serious thing. This country has grown big and quickly it is true. Quite too large for the small clothes of 1888, and the awkwardness of the legislature has far outgrown that of the country. Congress positively will not work. It devotes itself to society, poker, intrigue, flirtation, verbal flatulence and adjournment.

Every two years the districts send here a lot of fresh statesmen, open mouthed with wonder like a rustic at a circus. By the time their two years novitiate is over and when they are half prepared to do something, they have learned to arrive late and a lot of other utterly unseasoned men are elected. The drowsy rate is repeated every two years. The country is young and vigorous and has so far survived it. But it must be reformed altogether and defended by republicans.

Then when the Congressional sessions are reconstructed, or before, for that matter, we want another Constitutional amendment fixing inauguration day upon the anniversary of the first inauguration, the 30th of April, a pleasant season of the year. Washingtonians are not the only holiday makers on that day. The thousands of visitors from the States who flock here to shiver and catch pneumonia, as they did on the occasion of Grant's second inauguration, for instance, will all be delighted at the change, while the steadily increasing multitude which comes to Washington on these occasions to receive patronage and give the new President an enthusiastic send off will also be interested in the matter.

Since Mr. Vilas has taken charge of the Interior Department it feels the impulse of an energetic and strong hand. A shaken up was badly needed. The Patent Office and the Public Land Office are deplorably behind with their work, and the former is in a state bordering on demoralization. The present Commissioner of Patents, an exemplary man, and a good real estate lawyer, came to the office with little or no knowledge of the intricate and responsible work before him. But few people are aware of the immensity and importance of the National Patent Office.

The Commissioner of Patents found himself at the head of a corps of principal examiners, a board of appeals, a court of interference, a draftsman's division, the Patent Office Gazette, and a large corps of clerks. It is no exaggeration to say that there was not an examiner in the corps but knew more about the intricate and perplexing routine of the office than his chief.

Had Mr. Mail addressed himself to the actual work of the office, which, on account of the idleness and shirking of employees, was far in arrears, he might in spite of his freshness have done well. But like many neophytes, he signified his advent by a series of rulings that have thrown the practice into confusion worse confounded, and set back for months the pressing and engorged business of the Patent Office. The situation is truly deplorable, and the only remedy would seem to be to have Mr. Hall join Mr. Sparks, the late Commissioner of the Land Office.

Only if Mr. Cleveland had known anything about the business of the office, he would have appointed some one from the ranks. There are at least a score of experienced men who have been in the department for years, any one of whom would make a good commissioner of patents.

To-day were held the obsequies of Washington's noted philanthropist, Mr. W. W. Corcoran. According to the expressed wish of the grand old man, his funeral was a simple one. He had himself named his pall bearers, and he was laid away in the beautiful marble mausoleum beside his wife and children, in Oak Hill cemetery, which he, many years ago, presented to his native town, (Georgetown). His death excited as much comment at the Capitol as if he had been in public life. A Congressman who had known him said, he was one of the finest exponents of practical Christianity I have ever known.—J. B.

In spite of the popularity in England of Buffalo Bill and John L. Sullivan, and the fact that so many American young ladies have matrimonially captured rich and titled Englishmen, the ignorance regarding the United States that prevails even among the most scholarly of Queen Victoria's subjects is remarkably dense. "The most extraordinary mistakes are made by the most eminent men in England," writes Mr. Smalley to the New York Tribune. "The most extraordinary questions are put. I have been asked whether the Constitution of the United States was in writing; whether the President was elected for life; whether the Declaration and the Declaration of Independence were the same thing; whether the President could issue paper money of his own authority and make it legal tender; whether he could repeal an act of Congress or a State law was of higher authority; whether an amendment was binding on a State which withheld its assent to it; whether the President appointed the State Governors. And once an Englishman of position wrote to ask whether I thought it possible that a copy of the Constitution of the United States could be found in the British Museum." Minister Phelps is trying to dispel a little of this ignorance by means of a magazine article on the American Constitution, but it is doubtful if John Bull will take the trouble to read and remember it.

Full many a bard in days of old,
Has sung the praises of warriors bold,
Who conquered dragons, wrongs redressed,
And succored damels, sore distressed.

Why should we take a worn-out theme,
Or idly of the future dream,
When here before our wondering eyes
A shining present doth arise?

Who now can fall his lyre to wake,
And into song inspired outbreak,
And with a voice like ocean's roar,
When beats the angry wave the shore,

We often hear the Remark:

"I have tried everywhere and can't get any good tea." We would say to those and all lovers of a good cup of tea to give the Fancy Formosa that we are selling at 50c. a pound, or 21 pounds for $1.00, a trial, and if it is not a better tea for the price than you can get at any other store in the city, we will cheerfully refund the money. Don't take our word for it, but try it; the proof of the pudding is in the eating. And don't lose sight of the fact that it costs you but 40 cents a pound when you take a dollar's worth.

Particular attention is given to the selection of this grade and the same high standard is always maintained. We sell more of it than all other kinds together, and it pleases everybody.

We have tea as low as twenty-two cents a pound, but we would not recommend it. Another at forty cents a pound, or three pounds for a dollar, which is a good one, but if you want a rich, rosy cup of tea, ask for the Fancy Formosa.

New Magazines.

St. Nicholas has an exceptionally large amount of reading matter, this month. A very interesting little historical story is graphically told by Julian Ralph, entitled A Pig that nearly caused a War; happening at a time when we were on the eve of civil war, this incident occasioned but little notice at our people, and few Americans are now living, who know anything about this humble little domestic animal who "lost his life for his country." The entertaining serials are continued by John Preston True, and Frank E. Conkling. Child sketches from George Eliot, by Julia Magruder, is selected by month from Daniel Deronda. Roy McElvaine gives the first installment of his promise to be a delightful story of a boy's life in a mining town, and work in a colliery. (Ontario's Story), a legend, thrillingly told by John Blumley; Eugene V. Smalley discusses delightfully on an Ancient Roman of Pirates; Helen Campbell in the Hubert Treasures, demonstrates the good we may do by the exercise of our best efforts, however homely they may be.

Subscribers for the current month, opens with the first of two papers on the Campaign of Waterloo, by John C. Rogers. It is fully illustrated, one of these—Blacker Unburied at Ligny—forming the frontispiece. The Electric Motor and its Applications, by Franklin Leonard Pope is a most instructive article, profusely illustrated giving the origin, development and the present practical application of electric motors for the propelling of street cars, sewing machines, &c. Mrs. James T. Fields talks delightfully of A Shelf of Old Books, which we have before heard briefly described by the collector, James T. Fields; these books are closely associated with eminent literary people.

Robert Louis Stevenson continues his rambling dissertation, the subject this month being Beggars; the general reflections upon giving and receiving, are worthy attention. The Day of the Cyclone, by Octave Thénier, is a story woven into a graphic description of the terrible storm in Grimsby. H. G. Bunner concludes his charming little romance Natural Selection, in rather of a surprising, if satisfactory way. William F. Aythorp also brings to an end the epistolary correspondence, entitled Mendelssohn's Letters to Moscheles, which has been so entertaining by giving us a more intimate acquaintance with the great composer. F. I. Stimson, in First Harvests, gives an amusing picture of the Stock Exchange in New York, in the olden times of other busy scenes in a life in the metropolis. A fanciful little story, The Nixie, is prettily told by Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, in which may be traced an allegory. C. P. Cranch, Thomas N. Page, Jessie Chandler and Charles Edwin Markham contribute poems.

The March Wide awake opens with a thrilling little incident of the late war told, under the title of A Story of the March, graphically by Herbert Brown. Bob's Breakfast is an amusing story illustrating the ability of the average boy to take care of the entabes. An experiment made by the Boston Horticultural Society, for the introduction of growing plants in the tenement houses of the city, is interestingly described as A Boston Experiment, by Helen M. Wilson. Sidney Luska continues the very entertaining story by Hugo Flornmond, Oliver's Story, which has so delightfully described her traveling experience in China, this month writes of A Coaching Party in Java, giving bright little glimpses of a country of which we have known very little. The Family of Thomas Jefferson is the subject of a most interesting paper in Children of the White House, by Harriet Taylor Upton. Those Cousins of Mabel's M. E. W. Sherwood, continues its fourth chapter, with interest unabated. Harriet Stone Fleming contributes a little story, Pincushion Astronomy. Harriet Prescott Spofford writes a Ballad of Killeman Castle, and Frederick W. Patton gives a Southern boy's experience of My First Snow-Storm. The Contributors and the Children affords some very interesting reading, while displaying commendable ability among the young writers.

Jack Fay Adams gives the history of Mother Goose in Dear Old Story-Tellers, and as Search-Questions in Roman History, offers the period from the Fall of Gracchi to Pompey's Death. Mrs. Leonowens treats of The Egyptians in Our Asiatic Cousins. In Ways To Do Things, Jenn S. Emmons tells how to make Literary Albums.

Oscar Wilde's Magazine, The Woman's World, although appealing by its aesthetic appearance to the love of the beautiful in the feminine heart, has in its columns much worthy thought and comment. Among the contributors for the present month, is Miss Olive Shreiner (Ralph Iron), whose lovely allegory, The Lost, opens the number; Mrs. Frederika Macdonald, describing in a most readable manner, under the title of The Hermitage, an Episode in the Life of Jean Jacques Rousseau, with accompanying illustrations. The Countess of Straburgh, discussing intelligently the most vexed question of employment for women—Our Girl Workers—taking the ground that a step in the wrong direction is the result of urging women into positions that should be occupied by men; Lady Magnus, giving an entertaining description of Scottish scenery, entitled A Gallander Mouth in Scotland, a fine illustrated paper; Miss Lucy Garnett, contributing The Christian Woman of Turkey, also illustrated. The Hon. Mrs. Joyce, writing upon Emigration, considering its benefit, or the reverse, to women; Miss Beatrice Crane, Legend of the Blush Roses; Miss Amy Levy, The Poetry of Christina Rossetti; Mrs. Johnstone, Latest Fashions. The Serial by George Fleming, has reached its sixth chapter, with interest in The Truth about Clement Key, still unabated. The editor contributes literary and the notes.

The Century, as its March frontispiece, offers a fine picture of Bierbeck in his Garden, a portrait of the great statesman also adorns an article on his life. George Kennan continues his Russian papers, the present installment considering Russian State Prisoners. The Home Ranch, by Theodore Roosevelt, is finely illustrated and is a stirring description of frontier life. Salisbury Cathedral is the subject of Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer's paper, which is most interesting and entertaining. The Call to Arms is the new subject of the Lincoln History. An Large is brought to a happy termination by George W. Cable; and The Grays, by Edward Eggleston, is brought to its fifth part. Colonel Jose's Tunnel at Libby Prison, by Capt. Frank E. Moran, is a graphic account of the thrilling incidents connected with the escape of 109 Union officers from the prison, the story being one of the ill-fated 109 that were recaptured, pictures of the prison in '64 and again as it is at present, with sectional representations of the same, and the tunnel, accompany the article. Among other interesting papers is Franklin's Home and Host in France, John Bigelow; Some Pupils of Litz, Albert Morris Bagby; Immigration by Passport, T. T. Munger; and a complete story—Hevelius—by Helen Gray Cone. Poems are contributed by A. C. Cranch, Richard Watson Gilder, A. S.

Gray, Charlotte W. Thurston; Edith M. Thomas, Titus Munson Coan, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop and Mary Alice DeVere. Topics of the Time, Open Letters and Brio-a-Brac conclude a magnificent number.

Also see, Drilling, for your breath is just as sweet as new-mown hay; Kiss me, darling, for your teeth are free from tartar or decay; Kiss me, darling, for you won't forget me on your ZOZOUKONT.

The Atmosphere of Love is a pure, sweet breath. This desideratum is one of the results of using ZOZOUKONT, which only invigorates and preserves the teeth, but renders the mouth as fragrant as a rose.

SCROFULA

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofula. It
moreover, it is pleasant to take, gives strength
and vigor to the body,
and produces a more
permanent, lasting,
and healthy skin than
any other medicine
ever used. —E.
Haines, No. 14 Ludlow, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know it is taken with satisfaction, and will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. —
W. F. Fowler, M. D.,
Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using
Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.
—Mary C. Amesbury,
Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for
years, from Cutis,
which was so severe
that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.
—Susan L. Cook, 909
Albany St., Boston
Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have used it for Scrofula,
Eczema, and Salt
Rheum, and received
much benefit from it.
It is good, also, for a weak stomach. —Miss Jane Prince, South

"SET A THIEF!
TO CATCH A THIEF!"

Writes, from the depths of his grateful heart, a parent at Clarendon Hills, Ill., and because, "if there is a poison in
DR. CAMPBELL'S SAFE ARSENIC COM-POUND, I am a witness."
well, it just caught the poison in my Sister's blood and carried it off away—the two destroyed each other, and left her strong and healthy. —While DR. CYRUS EDSON, of the N. Y. BOARD OF HEALTH, says of Arsenic—
"Understandably administered internally, it is literally a LIFE PRESERVER." CLARKE'S Safes adds BRILLIANCE to the eyes. DE-VELOPES the form and is one of the MOST VALUABLE medicines known. It enters into the composition of what is commonly known as Love powders.

"It is not only used in FATTENING the human body, but it is also used frequently to horses for putting them in condition."
"It is commonly used in Fever and Ague Cases, and when prudently employed is a valuable agent in MALARIA. The value of the drug is mainly an individual matter, for which the person himself is chiefly responsible."
